THE KAISER'S AMAZING SERMON.
Next morning he appeared fresh and active, and apparently quite normal; but that evening at sunset he ordered the officials, suite officers, and crew to assemble on deck and then, appearing in clerical garb, he preached a most marvelous and amazing sermon.
"I am God's instrument!" he cried. "I am sent me to unsheath the sword against the world, to lead on to armies of our empire to victory and to world-power! In me," he cried, "you see the one sent unto you as a deliverer! — the all-highest upon this earth — your Kaiser!"
He raised his arm toward the sun and shouted: "The enemies of Germany shall wither as grass before the life. I am your emperor, your deliverer, your master!"
Next morning, at Von Wedell's instigation, the captain swore the whole crew, the officers, and the adjutant to secrecy, but the old Norwegian pilot was a month later indiscreet when he said of the Kaiser: "I did not know him a day before he was a direct and a powerful man."
